- 9:00 a.m. – Noon: Story of Duane King/Part 1
- Noon: Luncheon (Catering-see menu below)
- 1:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.: Part 2

Workshop Description:

Come and take a journey through the American Sign Language Version (ASLV) of the Bible to learn that Jesus is Lord. Experience watching and learning from stories in the Old and New Testaments of the Bible presented in the native, heart language of Deaf people – American Sign Language. And you’ll leave with new ideas and ways to share stories of the Bible with other Deaf people utilizing appropriate and captivating ASL grammar, structure, classifiers and facial expressions.

Educational Objectives:

- The participants will answer questions from the presenter during the sessions.
- The participants will repeat signing stories to others at their table utilizing appropriate and captivating ASL grammar, structure, classifiers and facial expressions.
- The participants will share with others at their table three things they have learned that they will utilize in the future.

Guest Speaker: Chad Entinger, predecessor of Duane King, ‘Father of Deaf Missions’ of Corral Bluffs, Iowa

Short bio - Chad Entinger is first and foremost a follower of Jesus. He and his wife, Glory, are blessed with six children - Shekynah, Corban, Davan, Jadon, Lujah and Selah. A graduate of Gallaudet University in Washington, D.C., Chad has served with Deaf Missions, an international Christian mission organization headquartered near Omaha, Nebraska, for 22 years, the last 14 as the Chief Executive. Chad's heart and passion is for all Deaf people to see and know Jesus. Along with Deaf Missions, Chad believes the most effective way to communicate the Gospel with Deaf communities around the world is through sign language - their native, heart language.
